

BUILDINGENERGY NYC

About BuildingEnergy NYC

Now in its seventh year, BuildingEnergy NYC is a conference designed by and for practitioners in the fields of high-performance building and design, energy efficiency, and renewable energy. The event brings together hundreds of professionals from across the industry to learn from and network with one another.

Every year, sessions are chosen by a committee of NESEA Members and highlight best practices and lessons learned. This year's theme of Electrification means that content will focus on how electrification will affect design, construction, related policies, technology, operations, user engagement, and community equity, as well as on solutions for when electrification is not possible.

This year's event will be held on Thursday, September 26 at the Convene Old Slip Conference Center. For more information, visit nesea.org/benyc19.
